The defendant is a legal alien and will be subject to deportation.

Other:

- ✓ (4) The nature and seriousness of the danger by the defendant's release are as follows: Defendant has a poor history of adjustment to court supervision.

(5) Rebuttable Presumptions:

In determining that the defendant should be detained, the Court also relied on the following rebuttable presumption(s) contained in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e) which the Court finds the defendant has not rebutted:

- a. That no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and the safety of any other person and the community because the Court finds that the crime involves:
  - (A) A crime of violence; or
  - (B) An offense for which the maximum penalty is life imprisonment or death; or
  - (C) A controlled substance violation which has a maximum penalty of 10 years or more or;
  - (D) A felony after the defendant had been convicted of two or more prior offenses described in (A) through (C) above and the defendant has a prior conviction for one of the crimes mentioned in (A) through (C) above which is less than five years old and which was committed while the defendant was on pretrial release; and the Court finds that
    - 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e)(1), or
    - 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e)(2), or
    - 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e)(3) applies.
- b. That no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and the safety of the community because the Court finds that there is probable cause to believe:
  - (A) That the defendant has committed a controlled substance violation which has a maximum penalty of 10 years or more.
  - (B) That the defendant has committed an offense under 18 U.S.C. § 924(c) or § 956(a).

✓ The Court, in finding that there are no conditions or combination of conditions which reasonably will assure the defendant's appearance and the safety of any other person and the community, has considered and rejected alternatives. Among the alternatives considered, the Court has rejected house arrest and a daily reporting scheme. In rejecting these alternatives, the Court notes the gravity of the offense and the substantial penalties which may possibly be imposed.

✓ D. Additional Directives

✓ Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3142(i)(2)-(4), the Court directs that:

The defendant be committed to the custody of the Attorney General for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal; and

The defendant be afforded reasonable opportunity for private consultation with his counsel; and

That, upon an order of a court of the United States, or upon request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility in which the defendant is confined deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with court proceedings.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
